AUNT PROSTRATED BY MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE OF LITTLE NIECE

BABY KIDNAPPED

Two sisters, who have been kidnapped within a year. Mabel Sully, at the left, disappeared a year ago. Now little Reita has been stolen while on her way to school in Malden.

Reita Sully Vanished Like Her Elder Sister and No Clue Has Been Found to Her Abductor—Child Was on Way to School.

Deepest mystery surrounds the kidnapping of little Reita Sully, eight years old, niece of Mrs. George M. Bishop of No. 34 Upham street, Malden, while on her way to school.

The child has completely disappeared, and the police have been baffled in their attempts to locate her. Less than a year ago her sister May disappeared from Mrs. Bishop's home, in an equally mysterious manner. Her absence at the time prostrated Mrs. Bishop, and now that Reita has been taken the woman's grief knows no bounds. She weeps incessantly and will not be comforted.

SUSPICION, BUT NO CLUE

While suspicion points at a relative of the children, there is not the slightest clue to who took the little one.

Reita Moody, eight years old, friend and schoolmate of little Reita, who lives with her parents at No. 30 Upham street, is the only person who can throw any light on the mystery of the little girl's disappearance. Reita said to a BOSTON AMERICAN reporter:

"I was running to school because I was late and it was about 7:30 time for school to go in, and down by the corner of Chestnut street I saw Reita standing with a man. I called to her that she would be late for school. She seemed to be waiting for me. I didn't look at her time with the strange lady, and she didn't answer me. I didn't look at her and wasn't old. She said Reita was waiting for me. I got to school late. I asked if I knew where she was and I said I had seen her with a man. Mr. Bishop would not discuss the kidnapping at any length. He has been very

DISCUSS MUNICIPAL LIGHTING

Legislative Committee Hears Argument on Bill to Amend Law.

Measures to make it safer for cities and towns to own and operate their gas and electric lighting plants were discussed today at the State House before the Committee on Public Lighting. In the last Democratic State platform a plank was inserted in favor of such action.

Chapter 34 of the Revised Laws, under which cities and towns may undertake municipal lighting, is drawn in the interest of the corporations as strongly that it practically prohibits a city like Boston from building and operating a municipal lighting plant.

Before the municipal lighting bills were taken up the committee of the House of Representatives, asking that the State utilize the water power owned by the city in the manufacture of electricity, was heard. Mr. Reed, state engineer, pointed out that such money would be used by increasing the water power interest in the changing of the present law was shown by the large attendance at the meeting. Room 527 was crowded.

Say Light of Railways.

The committee heard the petition of R. Herbert Woodman to enable towns in which there are now lighting plants, either private or municipal, to purchase electric light and power from street railway companies.

Mr. Woodman was accompanied by Mr. Mott of Hingham, Mr. E. W. Burdett of Boston also spoke in favor of the proposed legislation.

L. W. Smith of Hingham next addressed the committee on behalf of House bill No. 225, which seeks to amend the State law so that no expense of a gas or electric light plant may be the done looking into the possibility of a municipal lighting plant.

"Conditions of our board at Hingham," said Mr. Woodman, "are such that I think it is absolutely a good thing at any time and anywhere."

SICK WOMAN ESCAPES FIRE

Seriously ill in the rear room of her home, No. 27 Washington street, Mrs. Michael Harvey narrowly escaped death from a fire which originated in a small room in the front building. The smoke, she crawled from her bed and groped her way to the door leading into the hallway to safety by one of her sons.

The fire broke out in a small room of the house used by Harvey as a workshop, and was directed toward a lighted gas jet which the dry timbers of the building caught fire and

The damage in the building by fire and smoke amounts to about $200.

SISTERS NAME WOMAN FOUND DEAD IN HOTEL

LETTER OF CHEER IN FIGHT AGAINST FATE AIDS TO IDENTIFY ANNIE CLARKE.

"The mystery of the woman who was found dead in a room in the Shakespeare Hotel, No. 3 Beach street, has been partially solved by her identification by the Mother Superior of the House of the Good Shepherd, by means of a letter found in the room of Annie Clark, or French, of Lurgan, Ireland, who had been cared for by the sisters up to last Monday.

The woman was of good family in Ireland, had well-to-do friends there, but was anxious that they should not know of her plight here. She was often about herself to acquaintances and only confided in the Mother Superior. The letter by means of which she was identified was written by Rev. Father John McCarthy of her home town, and received by her a day or two before she left the House of the Good Shepherd.

Rev. Father Francis O'Hara, who is now in Boston, the guest of Viscountess Harrington, also has a letter from Father McCarthy, in which the woman was given a full account of her life. The letter by means of which the woman was identified is the letter found in the room of Annie Clark, and is the letter received by her.

Fought Against Fate.

The woman's story, as far as known, is one of a long battle against adversity.

Last August, 11 and weak, she went to the House of the Good Shepherd and told the Mother Superior that she was discouraged and wished to pass the rest of her life in that institution. She was admitted, and for some time lived in the room of Annie Clark, or French, of Lurgan, Ireland, who had been cared for by the sisters up to last Monday.

She left there last Monday, and the sisters heard no more of her until today, when a BOSTON AMERICAN reporter showed them the letter found in the room and asked them if they knew the woman to whom it was sent.

Rev. Father O'Hara, when questioned by a BOSTON AMERICAN reporter, said: "The writing in this letter is that of Father McCarthy. I have a letter from him myself, asking me to go to the House of the Good Shepherd to see this woman and to give her spiritual consolation. It is written in my own hand, but I have not yet and in the letter to Father O'Hara, Father McCarthy said that he had written the letter and that the woman was the one referred to in the letter received by him."

Fought Against Fate.

The woman's story, as far as known, is one of a long battle against adversity.

The wheel base is 100 inches and added six inches of body length making the rear end roomy, the seat riding inches wide.

The engine is much improved, the system of air cooling being used as before. The engine is now a four cylinder operated instead of automatic, as heretofore. The engine flywheel and transmission are absolutely protected by a steel construction which keeps the engine free from dirt and mud.

The synchronized system of ignition with a single coil is also a new feature. The spark plug is located in the Vee-tube groove, with insulating material between the plug and the coloring, and a perfect finish makes it one of the most attractive cars on the market.

Or Will the Legislature Give the People a Chance to Vote on the Question of Municipal Ownership?

There is a bill before the Legislature to amend the law in relation to municipal lighting by striking out the provisions of section 2 of chapter 34 of the Revised Laws, which require two successive annual two-thirds votes in the City

Will the Legislature do this, or are the people to understand that the Legislature belongs to the corporations and that no relief is possible except by going after every man who votes against the people's interest branding him as a traitor to his trust and calling upon the people to elect his elaborator to defeat him at the next election?

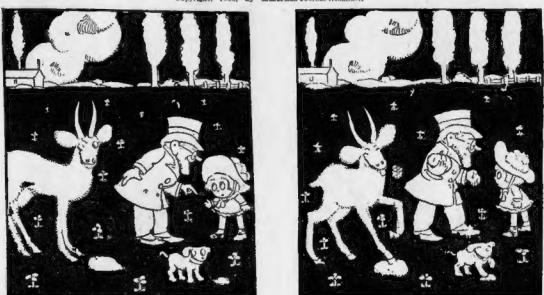

Rockefeller is wrong about that. He has simply confirmed the charges against him fully and completely, and made as clean a breast of himself as any confessing bank breaker hoping for a lenient sentence.

An antelope's a deer, my child
That's very hard to keep;

* And cantaloupes are also dear
At least they are not cheap.

But antelopes are apt to leap
But long away, you see;

So I have ordered cantaloupe,
Not antelope, for tea.
